

FLOOD THREATENS TEXANS—For the second time in two years, residents of the Trinity River area in Dallas are forced to flee their homes in the face of rising flood waters. Residents, mindful of their last experience with the river, are leaving early this year while it is still possible to drive out. They used boats to flee the last flood. (NEA Telephoto)

1898 Paper Tells Of Early Mining Near Harrisburg

HARRISBURG IN 1898: "The Davenport Coal Co. and the Harrisburg Mining and Coal Co. are the extensive mine operators of this section and through their efforts, the coal fuel from this district has attained a prominence that beacons brilliant results for mine operating."

The above was in the anniversary edition of the Harrisburg Chronicle of Oct. 28, 1898, the same edition which this column has been using the past several days to give a picture of industry in Harrisburg sixty years ago.

In addition there is an article about W. H. Howell, who first entered the mercantile business with Robert Mick but gave up these interests and opened up the Clinton coal mines on the Big Four railroad four and a half miles south of Harrisburg and after operating the mines about 15 years, leased the property to the Davenport Coal Co.

The Davenport Coal Co. had had the Ledford coal mines three years when the anniversary edition was published.

"For a number of years mining has been carried on in a limited way at this point," a story stated, "but not until the year of 1895, when the shaft was sunk to the depth of 165 feet to the remarkable eight-foot coal strata (No. 5, which they are now working) were they in any considerable degree recognized outside the local market."

"The company controls 500 acres of coal land . . . Since the organization of the stock company many improvements have been made. The buildings and machinery are of the latest approved methods for successful mining, and for the convenience and pleasure of those in their employ they have erected a number of commodious cottages."

Officers and members of the firm were John Davenport, president; W. N. White, vice president;

Rocket's Third Stage Fails to Ignite, Crashes Into Ocean With Satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Navy flung its Vanguard into space Monday night, but the rocket's third stage failed to ignite and crashed back into the ocean still carrying the hoped-for fourth U. S. satellite.

The Navy is now pushing plans for launching another Vanguard in less than a month carrying a similar 20-inch artificial moon.

"We will go right at it," said John P. Hagen, Vanguard Project director for the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington. He admitted, however, that the unsuccessful flight "was a great disappointment."

Spokesmen said preliminary data received during the Vanguard's flight indicated all went well for about 10 minutes—until the crucial instant some 300 miles above the ground when the solid fuel third stage was scheduled to ignite and kick free of the second stage.

The third stage evidently never separated from the second stage and plunged like a ballistic missile into the Atlantic some 1,500 miles southeast of the launching site, dooming the "chirping" sound of the satellite's radio voice to the silence of the sea.

The second stage was scheduled to land about where it did, but not with the third stage still attached.

The Defense Department said there was no chance of recovering the rocket's remains.

The instrument-bearing artificial moon was attached to the third stage of the rocket and would have been sprung free traveling at 18,000 miles an hour, had all gone as it should have.

The 11-ton Vanguard surged with a fiery splash from its launching pad at 10:35 p. m. e. d. t. and sped straight up for about 10 seconds before arcing over toward the southeast.

The second stage, containing the all-important guidance for the rocket, burned out in view of observers on beaches near the Cape about four and one-half minutes after blastoff, then coasted on for another five minutes to orbital altitude to keep the rocket on course. There the third stage should have blasted free.

Howard Wathen, 51 Of Equality Dies

Howard Wathen, 51, resident of Equality, died suddenly at his farm home at 3 p. m. Monday. He is survived by his wife, Hazel, and daughter, Janet, in the family home; his brother, William Wathen, Carmi; his sister, Mrs. Eula Moyer, Ridgway, and his father, Richard Wathen, Eldorado.

The body is in the care of the A. K. Moore funeral home of Equality and will lie in state at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Moore, Equality. Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Wathen are sisters.

Funeral plans will be announced later. Tentative plans are for the funeral services to be held Thursday.

Lightning and Wind Cause Disruptions Of Power in Area

Lightning and wind last night caused some trouble spots for the Central Illinois Public Service Co., William Hopkins, Harrisburg group superintendent, stated today.

Power into Pankeville was disrupted about 9 p. m. when two poles were blown down by strong wind. The poles were on the main line that feeds current to Pankeville. Power was restored during the night.

Hopkins said that lightning knocked out a few primaries in a small area of Harrisburg, that lightning also hit an insulator west of Harrisburg, caused a transformer to burn out west of town and knocked out one of four street light circuits.

GM Notifies UAW It Wishes to Terminate Present Contract

Jury Awards $25,500 to Three Plaintiffs

A circuit court jury late last night returned a verdict giving $25,500 to three plaintiffs in a lawsuit.

Biggest sum, $24,000, was awarded to James Fields for injuries received in an auto truck crash. His wife, Ruby, was given $1,000 for injuries and damage to her auto and Carl Linder, a passenger in their auto, got $500 for injuries. They are from Chicago.

Defendants were Robert York and Lester O. York, administrators of the estate of Byford B. York. Robert York, of McLeansboro, was driving a truck which had belonged to Byford York.

The lawsuit arose from a crash of the Fields auto and the York truck on Route 45 at the Ledford Crossing between Harrisburg and Carrier Mills on July 30, 1955. The case started Thursday afternoon with the beginning of the selection of a jury. The jury was chosen Friday morning and testimony was heard through Friday.

Court adjourned late Friday until Monday and testimony was heard until mid-afternoon when closing arguments were made and instructions were given.

The jury got the case after dinner, about 7 p. m., and returned its verdict at 11:05 p. m.

Representing the plaintiffs were Atty. D. F. Rumsey and Atty. Trafton Dennis. The Yorks were represented by the law firm, Twente and Jelliffe.

With the verdict the April term of circuit court came to a close with the presiding judge, Harold L. Zimmerman of Marion, dismissing the jury. During the term juries heard one criminal case and four civil actions.

Attend Double Rites for Cousins

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Cole and Mrs. Irene McDonald of Harrisburg and Hughie Fulkerson and Mrs. Nellie Hart, Herod, attended the double funeral of their cousins in Marion, Ky., Saturday. The funeral was held in the Crooked Creek church where both had been members for many years.

Fred Gilbert, 68, died Thursday from a heart attack following a two weeks' illness. Charlie Gilbert, 76, his brother, was in a coma and did not know that the death had occurred. Charlie died from a lingering illness 21 hours following the death of his brother Fred.

Death Takes Mrs. Geo. F. Arthur; Rites Wednesday

Mrs. Letha Arthur, 71, resident of 1230 West Longley street, Harrisburg, died at 2:35 p. m. Monday. She was born in West Virginia Nov. 13, 1886 and was the daughter of the late William and Susan Brown. She had been in poor health for about eight years.

She is survived by her husband, George F. Arthur; her son, George W. Arthur, Marion, Ind.; her daughter, Mrs. Wanda Soalfrank, Ft. Wayne, Ind., and three grandchildren. She was the last of her parents' five children.

The body will lie in state in the chapel of the Harrisburg funeral home where the funeral will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday. The Rev. Roy Reynolds will officiate assisted by the Rev. William Fuson, pastor of the Dorrisville Baptist church where she was a member. Burial will be in the Liberty cemetery.

Dog Saves Life Of Owner in Fire

Firemen today said a dog in the house undoubtedly saved the life of its master early today.

Police and firemen rushed to the home of William Bethel, 607 West Elm, at 4:30 a. m. to find the bedding and mattress on the bed on which Bethel had been sleeping afire.

Bethel said that he had taken a sedative because of a back injury and had gone to sleep while smoking.

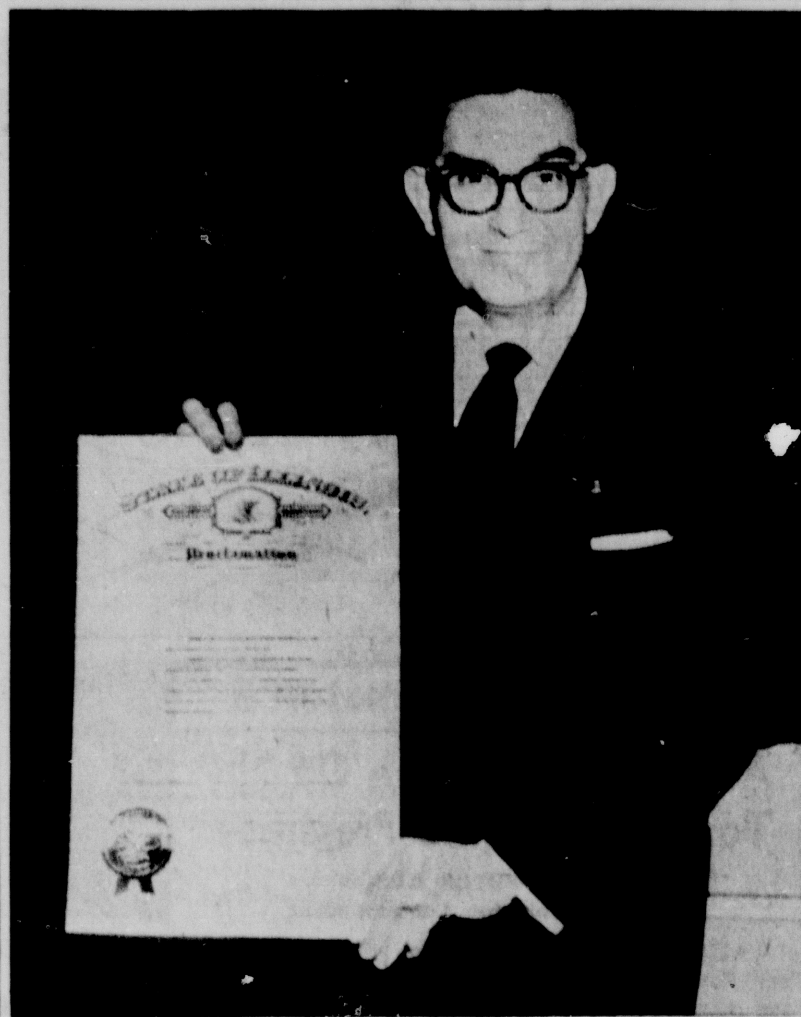

Bethel said that he was aroused, with the bed on fire, by his dog which dug at him with its paws until he awakened.

The fire department did not make the run to the Bethel house. A call first came to the city hall for the police and when police arrived they called Fire Chief L. G. Martin from his home.

The truck made a run at 8:45 p. m. to the trailer residence of Harry Border Jr. at 618 West Maple. An oil heater got too hot and caught fire but Border had the fire out with a fire extinguisher when the truck got there, Martin stated.

Rites at Mt. Vernon For Mrs. Henry Aaron

The funeral of Mrs. Ada Aaron, 81, who died in Mt. Vernon Sunday, was held at 2 p. m. today in the Meyers funeral chapel there. Burial was in the Oakwood cemetery at Mt. Vernon. Mrs. Aaron, widow of the late Henry Aaron, had formerly lived in Harrisburg.

ILLINOIS ELKS PRESIDENT Eugene W. Schriener displays Governor William G. Stratton's proclamation designating May 1st as Elks National Youth Day in Illinois. The observance of the day, which is conducted by Elks lodges all over the country, is in response to a proclamation by Grand Exalted Ruler H. L. Blackledge, and is a reply to the communist observance of the day as May Day. The Elks Youth Day is designed to focus attention on the achievements of American youth, and to give them notice that the Order of Elks stands behind them, ready to render every assistance and encouragement in enabling them to meet their future responsibilities and realize their greatest aspirations. Elks Plan Youth Activities in Harrisburg and Eldorado on May 1

Conforming with the proclamation of Grand Exalted Ruler H. L. Blackledge, Elks lodges all over the country will again celebrate May 1st as Elks National Youth Day, and Harrisburg Lodge No. 1058 has planned another big celebration of the event for the youth of Harrisburg and Eldorado.

Exalted Ruler Owen J. Hunsinger and Youth Activities chairman Vern Joyner Jr. have announced a full schedule of events for the day, which has been proclaimed the Elks National Youth Day in Illinois by Governor William G. Stratton. Festivities will begin with movies, both in Harrisburg and Eldorado, for the younger group, particularly those of junior high school age. In Harrisburg, starting James Stewart and will hear a brief message by Illinois Elks Association President Eugene Schriener. Eldorado students will see "Boys' Town," with Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney, and will be addressed by Paul McKinis, principal of Washington school.

At 6:30 Thursday evening, the Elks will stage a banquet in the Rathskeller of the lodge, and the guests will include, in addition to those already taking part in the day's activities, representatives from every student organization in both high schools, one officer from each class, winners of the local lodge's recent Youth Leadership and Most Valuable Student competitions, J. Ward Barnes and Eltis Henson, principals of Eldorado and Harrisburg high schools, H. B. Bauman, faculty adviser of the Harrisburg student council, and Mayors Carl Johnson of Eldorado and Claud Gibbons of Harrisburg. County Superintendent of Schools C. R. "Pete" Gardner, who is chairman of the Illinois Elks Scholarship Judging committee, will be the principal speaker at the banquet, which at least 100 are expected to attend.

Name Queen for U.I. Mothers Day

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Marilyn Ebel, 22, a native of Champaign and daughter of A. James Ebel, manager of station KOLN-TV at Lincoln, Neb., will be crowned 1958 University of Illinois Mother's Day queen here Saturday.

A tall, blue-eyed blonde interested in government and journalism, Miss Ebel will reign in annual campus Mother's Day activities, with six other coeds as members of her court.

She is executive news editor of the Daily Illini, and past president of Chi Omega sorority, and is a political science major. Her father formerly was chief engineer for U. of I. radio station WILL and earlier was director of engineering at station WMBD at Peoria.

Coronation of the Mother's Day queen will be a highlight of the Saturday activities. Members of the queen's court will be Mary H. Adsett Pontiac; Barbara English, Winnetka; Jeanne K. Johnston, Dixon; Shirley Rae Moore, Oakland; Barbara E. Williams, Edinburg, and Gail D. Wonderlin, Decatur.

Firm Seeks to Block Union Extension Plan

GM and Ford Both Offer Counter.
Proposals to UAW

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors today notified the United Auto Workers it wishes to terminate its present contract May 29 when the contract expires.

The nation's biggest auto company took the unusual step in an apparent effort to block the union's strategy in carrying bargaining through the summer on a day-to-day basis without signing a new contract.

General Motors and Ford Monday turned down the union's deal for a three-month contract extension, and countered with proposals to extend the present contracts for another two years.

The union finds itself in a weak bargaining position, with near-record stocks of 850,000 unsold new cars and 400,000 UAW members unemployed.

The union would like a bargaining showdown next fall when the companies must bring out 1959 models.

Union Delays Decision

But today was the day of decision when the company and union had to give 30-day notice if either wanted 1955 contracts to end with the expiration date, May 29.

The union delayed its decision until this afternoon, but GM, which hadn't terminated or canceled a contract since 1945, took the firm step of termination.

While there is nothing to prevent the parties from agreeing to a temporary extension after May 29, the notice of termination gives either party the right to walk out or shut the doors on that date and increases the pressure on the union to reach agreement.

Chrysler was expected to join GM and Ford in rejecting the union offer of a three-month extension when that company resumes negotiations with the UAW later today.

GM President Harlow H. Harkness and Ford President Henry Ford II told UAW President Walter P. Reuther Monday his proposal to extend contracts until September was a tactical maneuver to bargain with the companies as they prepared to build 1959 model cars.

Fines Levied at Shawneetown After Auto Crashes

Two persons yesterday were fined at Shawneetown for driving while intoxicated and for reckless driving and a third for driving while intoxicated after the series of crashes on a gravel road just off Route 13 between Shawneetown and Old Shawneetown early Sunday morning.

State police had stopped to investigate a car on the road and other cars piled into them, injuring a state trooper, Arthur Athmer, and a woman passenger in one of the cars.

Pleading guilty and being fined were: Otto Walter Ballard of Shawneetown, fined $150 for drunken driving, $100 for reckless driving and $33 costs; Walter Waters of Shawneetown, fined $150 for drunken driving, $50 for reckless driving and $33 costs; Hubert Holland of Omaha, fined $150 for drunken driving.

Passengers fined $18 each for intoxication were Pearl Smyth, Herman Mills and Millard Curry.

Illinois Federation of B. & P. W. Clubs Holds 37th Annual Convention

The 37th annual state convention of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., met April 24-27 in the Sheraton-Jefferson hotel at St. Louis, Mo.

There were outstanding speakers at all of the meetings and in addition to officers and members of the clubs themselves, Dr. Delyte W. Morris, president of Southern Illinois University, spoke at the Friday luncheon; Mrs. Mary Winbigler Coriden, C.I.A., Washington, D. C., first recipient of the Celia M. Howard Fellowship, serving with the U. S. diplomatic service spoke Friday evening of her college training at the B. Fletcher school of Law and Diplomacy under the sponsorship of the Illinois Federation of B. & P. W. clubs; and at Saturday evening's banquet, Miss Mercedes Hurst, public relations director and resident of Chicago, was the speaker.

The convention closed with an interdenominational devotion service, Sunday morning, held in the Gold room of the hotel and a post-convention breakfast.

Of particular note throughout the convention was the interest shown in exhibits and thought-provoking favors distributed by SIU and business firms of southern Illinois. There was a screen in front of the registration desk on the hotel lobby balcony which showed a series of southern Illinois scenes taken on trips of the Sunday auto tours through Shawnee National Forests and the hill country.

The General Telephone company which serves the area sent personal directories, the Southern Illinois Airport, Carbondale - Murphysboro, sent card holders and card calendars, insurance companies, banks, and manufacturers were well represented and brochures from Giant City State Park and Crab Orchard national wild life refuge, were included in the "loot bags" presented to each registered member. Notebooks, pencils, calorie charts, matches and emery boards were among favors included by business firms.

The program cover for the Hawaiian banquet was designed by SIU Art Service and coal companies presented the women with gardenias and ceramic favors. There was also a mine exhibit near the registration desk.

New officers for the 1953-1954 year were elected as follows: Miss A. Zola Groves, Chicago, assistant Attorney General of Illinois, president; Dr. Frances Whitehead, Lewistown, professor of business education at Western Illinois college, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Mary Lou Koonce, Mounds, a secretary-bookkeeper, 2nd vice-president; Miss Mildred Menard, Kankakee, assistant county superintendent of schools, recording secretary; and Mrs. Nora Molz, Pana, president of the Insurance Agents association of Pana, treasurer.

Following the Magnolia banquet Saturday evening, there was a reception in the Boulevard room of the hotel honoring the National and State officers.

District 12 clubs were hostess clubs for the convention.

Attending from Harrisburg were Mrs. Nelle Meyers, president of the Harrisburg B. & P. W. club; Miss Mary Richardson, retiring chairman of District 13; Mrs. Zola Young Sloan, former chairman of the Legislative committee, and Mrs. Mary L. Streich, a new member of the Harrisburg club.

Reports at the convention showed registration and attendance of about 650 members. The total membership of the 114 Illinois clubs is 8,508.

Harrisburg Woman's Club Visits Art Exhibit

The Harrisburg Woman's club held its regular meeting at 2 p. m. Monday, but the place of meeting changed from the usual library club rooms to the gymnasium of the Junior high school where the city schools art exhibit is in progress.

Students of the school acted as hostesses and guides, explaining the various materials and their usage to the club members.

A brief business meeting was held with Mrs. W. W. Damron presiding and giving a devotion. James Billman, sophomore at HTHS, made a report on his experience at the Art Camp at Alton Park last summer where he was sponsored by the Woman's club. He spoke of the things he learned, his pleasure in the work and beauty of the camp and expressed his gratitude for having been chosen by the club to go.

The rest of the time was given over to viewing the exhibit.

Grouping Committee Report Heard at P.E.O. Meeting

Chapter Z, P.E.O., met in the home of Mrs. J. A. Bottomley Friday, with Mrs. Carl Rude presiding. Mrs. Roy Metcalf read the report she will present at the state convention in Chicago next week end, as chairman of the grouping committee.

Mrs. B. G. Funkhouser was in charge of the program on "Happy Maturity" and all members present participated.

There were 18 members present and announcement was made that the next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. F. M. Sullivan.

Mrs. Emily Jones of 401 West Raymond street, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia at Lightner hospital for two weeks, is much improved. She was taken by ambulance Saturday to the home of her niece, Mrs. Blanch Wallace, 110 West Logan street, who will care for her during her illness. Her friends are invited to see her any time as she is permitted to receive company now.

Art, Music Theme Horace Mann PTA; Officers Elected

Horace Mann PTA held its regular April meeting Monday evening, with Mrs. Morris Skaggs, president, presiding. Mrs. Phillips Nyberg, chairman of the nominating committee made her report and the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. Bernard Feazel; vice-president, Mrs. James Reeves; secretary, Mrs. Clyde Wilmoth, and treasurer, Mrs. Jerry Klaviva.

Speakers for the evening were John Schork and Mrs. Harold Bauman. Mr. Schork gave an interesting discussion on music for everyone. Mrs. Bauman spoke from the same angle, contending that art is all around us. We have only to look to enjoy. Both music and art add zest to living, displacing drabness if one chooses to dispel it. Alice Jarrell's third grade class closed the program with a "Mexican Fiesta," written by Miss Jarrell, whereby the children incorporated the theme with music and art. They portrayed a vast amount of learning about life and manners of one of our closest neighbors—Mexico.

Jamie Reeves was in charge of the Fiesta. Songs, folk tales, and poems were delivered by groups and individuals depicting various scenes of Mexican life, such as the "Sombremos" accompanied by the "Mexican Hat Dance," a bull fight, a donkey scene, "Mexican Clap Hand Dance," as well as a real reading lesson in Spanish. Some early history of Mexico was given, and why the Mexicans speak Spanish.

Children appearing in the program were Darlene Anglin, Ricky Beam, Sarah Blackwell, Jane Brady, Howard Bush, Connie Cape, Donald Evard, Alfred Fox, Mar-

Richard Jackson Receives Honor at Fredericktown, Mo.

Richard Jackson, graduate of Harrisburg Township and the Missouri University School of Journalism who now is news editor of the Fredericktown (Mo.) Democrat-News, recently was honored as the Fredericktown community's outstanding young man of 1952.

A Distinguished Service Award plaque, the first such given by the Fredericktown Junior Chamber of Commerce, was presented to Mr. Jackson by Shad Old of Sikeston, Mo., treasurer of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce. Old said Mr. Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Jackson of Harrisburg, was chosen 1952 outstanding young man chiefly because of his civic work. During the year he served as founding resident of the Fredericktown Jaycees and is now a Missouri state vice president.

Last summer he directed the Madison county Youth Baseball league and is currently public relations chairman of the Shawnee district, Boy Scouts, is district chairman of the Missouri Sports-writers association, is on the Cancer Society Board and on a Girl Scout troop committee.

Besides being news editor of the Democrat-News he broadcasts news from a St. Genevieve radio station.

Mrs. Gibbons, who writes under the name of Ann Gibbons, has been writing for several years for major magazines both here and abroad. Her work has been translated into seven languages and made into radio and television plays.

Steelworkers
Reject Pay Freeze

WASHINGTON — David J. McDonald, president of the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers Union, today rejected proposals for a steel industry wage freeze as an anti-recession measure.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and some economists have urged the steelworkers to forego automatic wage boosts due July 1 if steelmakers freeze prices.

McDonald, in testimony prepared for the House Banking Committee, called for wage increases and tax cuts to raise consumer purchasing power and stimulate the economy.

Any pay freezes, he said, would be "as effective as tying an anchor to a boat in order to make it go."

Mrs. T. R. Brenner entered the Ferrell hospital in Eldorado Sunday evening where she underwent a major operation Monday morning. She is doing nicely at this time, Tuesday morning.

Joan Marie, little four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mossman of this city, underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis at the Ferrell hospital in Eldorado Sunday evening. She is still quite ill and her condition remains serious at this time.

Mrs. Carrie Gossett of Chicago spent the week end with Mrs. Paul Glover.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Guard were in Henshaw, Ky., Sunday to attend a dinner party honoring Mrs. Guard's sister, Mrs. H. B. Dyer of Sturgis, Ky., in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Reim.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Holland and daughters of Evansville were Sunday visitors of Mrs. Emma Holland. Also Mrs. Holland had as a visitor Sunday Clayton Reed of Central City, Ky., who stopped en route to his home following a visit with his father, George Reed, to Mt. Vernon, Ill., who is critically ill.

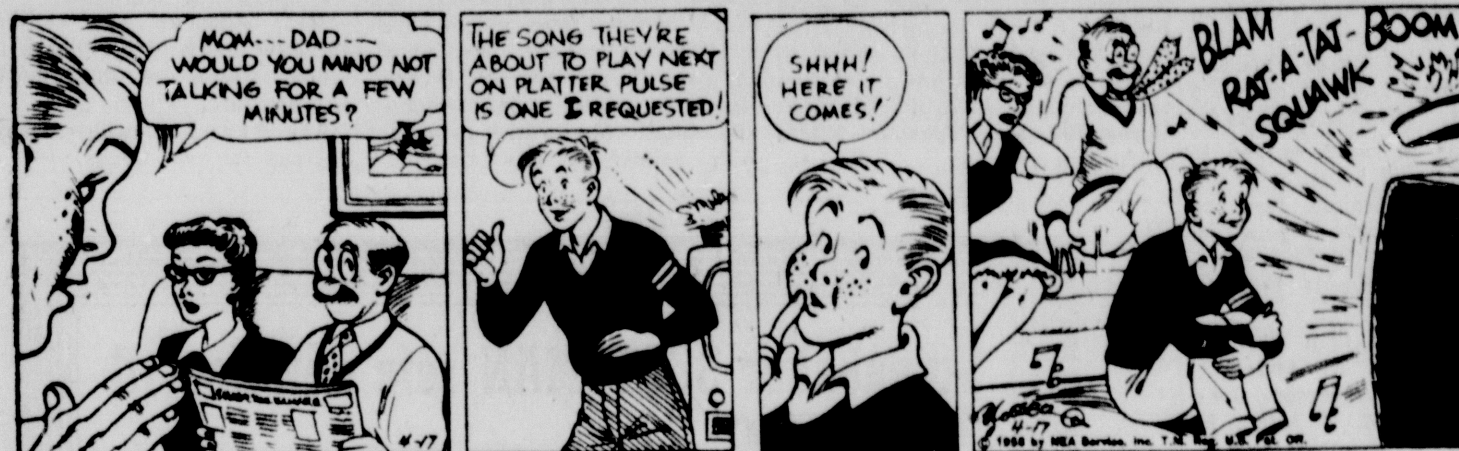

John E. Ferrell, member of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, arrived Monday to spend the summer months in his home here.

Miss Peggy Sisk went to Texas City Tuesday last week to visit Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Nelson, until Sunday. On Saturday evening the Nelsons and Miss Sisk were in Omaha the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Edwards.

Invaders Take Over

BY LESLIE TURNER

by ED LACY

FRANK asked me, "Well how do you like it, Dave? Plenty of action, and this is the start of the season." He stopped to grab a large carton marked "Fragile—Glass off a roller and throw it on a pile across the room as he shouted at a kid who didn't look over 16, "Where's your eyes, Paddy? That was plainly marked 'air freight'."

He ran a hand over his big lantern jaw and whispered loudly to me, "The breakage these darn kids cause. How do you like it, Dave? We go like this from 8 in the morning up to 10 or 11 at night."

"Sure a lot of movement. What's it all about?" I asked, thinking it was odd about Wren coming across a retired cop in a bar just when he needed one.

"This is a very big operation," Uncle Frank said, blowing up his chest as if making an after-dinner speech. "New York is the style center, the clothing center. Let us suppose you own a shop out in Dayton, Ohio. Well, you have to buy here, either directly or by mail, and you have to pay the shipping costs. Now say you buy a dress for $2 and plan to retail it at three-fifty. The shipping—hey, you in the blue sweatshirt on the south roller, don't pile those boxes so high. What was I saying, Dave?"

"A dress for three-fifty," I said.

"Oh, yes. If you have it sent parcel post, insured, the postage will amount to, say... about 70 cents. This means you can't retail the dress for under $4. A dress weighs about three to four pounds, packed. Suppose you're buying 50 dresses, that's over $40 in postage alone. Are you following me?"

"Right behind you," Had Wren and Owens been doing private work all along? That would account for the wad Wales had on him. But the private eye business wasn't that good... unless you were doing blackmail.

"... And so you have all your orders delivered to us—the manufacturers deliver free within the city. We wait till you have 100 pounds of freight and ship by 100-pound lots, thus cutting your shipping costs in half, including the few cents per item for our service. Handling thousands of packages per day, we make a nice profit."

We went up some stairs where a bevy of elderly women were working adding machines fast as typewriters, and into a battered office. Uncle Frank sat down behind his old desk and relit his cigar, mouthed a couple of pills as he said, "Always around now, when business is slow, my stomach acts up."

"Is any business worth it?" I asked, studying Uncle Frank. He'd never have anything to do with a murder.

"Ulcers, nervous stomach, I've had them all. But I have an appointment in a few minutes, so let me tell you our proposition. I've talked this over with my partners and they agree you're the ideal lad for us."

"I am?"

"Dave, as you saw, we have a very democratic sort of hiring system here, and we're proud of it. We give colored women office jobs, use youngsters just out of school or going to night school as part-time workers. We even give handicapped people a break, hire deaf and dumb people. You would start in shipping, at the bottom. With your Italian name nobody will ever suspect you are related to me. Starting pay will only be about $35 a week, but within two months I guarantee you will be taking home $55 every Friday night."

"I certainly appreciate you're thinking of me," I said, wondering why I was wasting precious time here, "but I don't know if I'm suited for this..."

Uncle Frank pointed to my wrist watch and shot out of his chair. "Where does time go to? It's 3.30. I'm late for my appointment. Think it over, my boy, a long-range opportunity. You may be boss of the place by the time you're 35. Phone me here tomorrow."

"Tomorrow is Saturday," I said.

"Phone me here. Saturdays, Sundays, I'm always here."

ON the subway ride uptown I kept thinking of the blackmail angle: Owens and Wales might have been working with a third character, perhaps a licensed private jerk—although what made having a license so important? They get shady jobs and worked small-time blackmail on businessmen like Wren. If they got four or five grand at a clip, made a couple of scores a year, that could account for Wales' money belt—he could have saved 11 grand over a span of half a dozen years easily, the frugal way he lived. But where was Owens' dough? Or was this their first job and Owens refused to split, that's why Wales gunned him? Couldn't be their first job. Where did Wales' bundle come from?

But I couldn't buy that at all, or any part of it. They were good cops, why should they be doing something crooked in the last years of their lives? Why was everybody so sure Wales had killed his partner? Wasn't for the gun, there wouldn't be any connection between the crimes. But there was the gun. Perhaps the gun had been planted in his room when the killer finished.

I made a note of that, wondered why I'd overlooked the angle before. A planted gun added, kept Wales in character. Only what kind of character if they were shakedown artists?

30,000 Farmers to Receive $30 Million Soil Bank Payments

By WARREN STROTHER

United Press Staff Correspondent

Somewhat more than 30 million dollars will be paid to about 30,000 Illinois farmers in 1958 for putting all or part of their corn acreage allotments in the soil bank.

The soil bank payments will reduce the state's corn crop by about 600,000 acres, a sizable amount although not a large acreage when the corn which will be planted this spring adds up to about 8,600,000 acres.

Last year's crop was about 8,400,000 acres, despite some 350,000 acres "banked" in the soil bank's acreage reserve program.

This may well be the last year the federal government pours money into the acreage reserve program. The administration has not yet made any effort to extend the acreage reserve program into 1959, and some observers expect that it may be dropped in favor of an expanded conservation reserve program, the long range part of the soil bank.

The state Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office at Springfield reported as of April 18 a total of 26,949 corn acreage reserve contracts had been signed covering 559,988 acres, for which the farmers participating will receive $28,698,599.

An additional 2,800 farmers have applied before the deadline to include $2,931 acres in the program, which would cost $2,314,026 if all are accepted. And under "late filing" provisions, 656 farmers have filed certificates indicating they had planned to participate in the program but did not sign up in time because of confusion over changes in the deadline date. Their application would cover about 13,000 acres at a cost of $606,519.

An ASC spokesman said it was anticipated that at least part of those on the waiting list as well as some of those who filed late certificates, either will change their minds and not sign up, or will be found ineligible. Consequently the total acreage in the program will be somewhat less than the total of all applications and certificates which have been filed.

Interest in the acreage reserve program has increased sharply over last year. Total corn acreage reserve payments in 1957 were about $18,500,000 for the 350,000 acres placed in the program.

This year there was not enough money provided to cover all of the applications for the corn acreage reserve program in Illinois until a supplemental appropriation was provided by Congress which boosted the Illinois funds by $12,900,000. The earlier Illinois acreage reserve allocation was $19,500,000.

The acreage reserve payments average about $50 an acre, and this year will average about $1,000 for each participating farmer. In tenant-owner situations the payments are split between tenant and owner in the same proportion as other farm income is split.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain, Stops Itching as it Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all — results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Files have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H.

Fancy Hotel Wedding

29-Year-Old Newsboy Honeymoons With His 85-Year-Old Bride

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (U.P.)—A 29-year-old newsboy and his 85-year-old bride, a great-grandmother, honeymooned at home today following a fancy hotel wedding and a televised reception.

The bride, Mrs. Laura Belle Wilson, announced "I may look old, but I don't feel that way," after the wedding ceremony in the governor's suite of the Van Orman Hotel Monday afternoon.

Her new husband, Jim Bough, who supplements his income by mowing lawns, grumbled a bit at the lack of television cameras during the wedding because "a lot of my friends are going to be watching."

But Bough beamed when he saw the television cameras set up to cover the reception.

Mrs. Wilson wore a light blue organdy suit with a white hat and veil, and Bough wore a light summer suit.

The wedding had been delayed about a week because Mrs. Wilson had trouble producing legal evidence that she was 18 years old and of age to marry.

The new Mrs. Bough, who has five grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren, confided to newsmen "I'll always remember my marriage vows—they went straight to my heart."

"Isn't he a good-looking young man?"

The newlyweds indicated they would spend a few days here and then visit Mrs. Bough's relatives in Johnston City, Ill. They were expected to pass up an invitation to spend an expense-paid honeymoon at a Miami Beach, Fla., hotel.

The Boughs' long friendship began when Bough sold Mrs. Wilson a paper. Relatives of the couple said they were pleased by the marriage. Bough's mother, Mrs. Leota Blake, said she was "very happy."

Bough said he was not worried because his bride now would lose her $60 monthly old age assistance check.

"I can support both of us with my newspaper route and lawn mowing," Bough said.

Nixon Assures Uruguay U. S. Will Aid Economy

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (U.P.)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon has assured Uruguay of U. S. cooperation in ending economic woes which this country blames largely on America's wool tariff.

"We must work together for a solution of our problems—social, economic and political," Nixon told the Uruguayan Senate.

This doesn't mean there won't continue to be differences—there will be—but we must work to solve our differences with four objects: freedom, independence, economic progress and keeping the peace."

Sen. Monroney Hits Brutal Slaughter Methods

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Sen. A. F. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) said Monday most farmers "would never permit on their own farms the unthinkable brutality" that takes place in mass slaughter by the big U. S. packing houses.

Monroney was one of several witnesses to testify in favor of the House-passed slaughter bill before the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry.

He accused the American Meat Institute of "vicious, untrue" lobbying against the so-called humane slaughter bill.

He charged the meat institute was using "deliberate and intentional misrepresentation" to convince farmers that the measure would stretch "the long arm of the federal government to the farms of America."

Actually, Monroney said, the House and Senate humane slaughter bills would merely require the government to buy meat from packers slaughtering their livestock by any one of several humane methods.

Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) said the only way to get packers to adopt new, humane methods of slaughter was to pass legislation.

Britain Claims Successful Test Of Nuclear Device

LONDON (U.P.)—Britain claimed success today in its latest peaceful test of a "clean" nuclear device—believed to be a missile warhead with the punch of a hydrogen bomb.

Supply Minister Aubrey Jones announced that the device was exploded over Christmas Island Monday night in the first Western nuclear test since Russia's conditional offer to halt its testing program.

The British device was dropped from a Valiant jet bomber, flying at near-sonic speed at an altitude of more than two miles. Informed sources said the test was part of a rocket warhead program.

"The explosion was probably of the thermonuclear hydrogen type," said a spokesman for the Atomic Energy Authority.

Has Contracts To Build Two Residences

The Bledig Building and Contracting Co. has contracted to build two residences, Fanno Bledig of Galatia, the contractor, announced today.

He will build for Cal Wiedemann a one-story, two-bedroom Bedford stone veneer home on East Poplar street. It will have a large living room, two large fireplaces, family room, kitchen and dining room combined, large basement and two-car garage.

On the Eldorado-Raleigh highway he will build a ranch house for Walter Sadler. It will be a three-bedroom structure of Bedford stone veneer, large living room, kitchen and dining room with double car garage and utility room.

Both houses will have Thermopane windows.

Mr. Bledig said that bad weather has been delaying construction but that home building looks good to him, that several persons have contacted him relative to building new homes.

Morman Explains How Scripture Verses are Analyzed in Rotary Talk

An explanation of how students in seminars are taught to analyze each word in a verse of scripture to obtain the true meaning was given by the Rev. R. J. Morman at the weekly Rotary meeting held yesterday at noon.

The Rev. Morman said that sometimes part of the meaning of a verse is lost in translation and that it is necessary to consult the Hebrew writings. To illustrate he took several verses from First Psalm and proceeded to analyze each word, using the Hebrew meaning to many of the words. He stated that the verses in the Bible, when studied and broken down in to segments, sometimes give a different meaning than when we just read over the verses.

Ralph Horning from Fort Pierce, Fla., was welcomed as a guest of the club.

Remove Fear of Attack, U. S. Urges Russia

Soviets Renew Demands U. S. Halt H-Bomber Flights

UNITED NATIONS (U.P.)—The United States called upon the Soviet Union today to remove fear of massive surprise attack by agreeing to a zone of inspection in the Arctic.

But both in Moscow and on the floor of the Security Council Russia renewed its demands that the United States halt its H-bomber alert missions. In Moscow, Soviet Minister Andrei Gromyko said either the U. S. must halt such flights or bear "grave responsibilities... for possible consequences."

Russia charged that the U. S. proposal was a diversionary move to detract attention from H-bomber flights while seeking to spy on Soviet territory.

A Soviet resolution, placed before a U. N. council meeting which is overwhelmingly in favor of the U. S. plan, demanded that the questions of safeguards be placed before a summit meeting.

"Turn in the Road"

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, introducing a resolution calling for a northern inspection zone, told the Security Council its session "could mark the turn in the road for which humanity has been looking."

The Soviet charge and the American safeguard proposal arose chiefly from a dispatch by United Press President Frank H. Bartholomew describing alert missions of U. S. Strategic Air Command bombers and the "fail safe" system which prevented the bombers from proceeding on false missions.

Sentenced to Life At Evansville for Kidnaping Woman

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (U.P.)—A former Chicago convict who was captured in Illinois after an Indiana holdup and kidnaping last Jan. 28 was sentenced to life imprisonment Monday in Circuit Court here.

A jury deliberated the fate of Robert Dane Finton, 32, for three hours before returning its verdict. Finton was charged with armed robbery and kidnaping.

Finton and a companion, John Boyce of Portland, Ore., obtained $1.90 in a holdup at a Kroger store here. Finton forced Mrs. Elizabeth Omer, 46, to drive him to Princeton, Ind., before he released her. Then he took taxicabs to Mount Carmel and Lawrenceville, Ill., before he was captured at a roadblock.

Boyce took his own life when hemmed in by state troopers at Rockport, Ind.

About Town And Country

W. H. Alsop, treasurer; and B. F. Rice, secretary.

"The office of the plant is in Harrisburg, located near the Big Four passenger depot," the story continued. "As they stand today the Ledford mines is the chief industry of Saline county."

At the southern edge of the city limits, along the track of the Big Four, were the new buildings and shaft of the Harrisburg Mining and Coal Co.

"It is scarcely a year since operation came in force at this place, and just that long has the output been credited a prestige within due keeping with the Saline county state geologist report of No. 5 vein of coal," the Chronicle read.

"The mine is being worked to capacity, the coal being in steady demand. As operators say, the only trouble they have to gain customers is to place the first order, the product afterwards sells itself."

Members of the firm were G. M. Robertson, D. N. Anderson, Mrs. August R. Anderson, John Davenport, Mrs. W. H. Alsop, W. N. White, T. S. Reynolds and B. F. Rice.

THE WOOLCOTT MILLING CO. (spelled Walcott in the Chronicle) was an important industry. The mill was established more than 30 years prior to 1898 but J. H. Woolcott, J. C. Wilson and Nelson Woolcott had become its owners but 18 months before the anniversary edition.

With refitting and reconstruction, the mill's grinding capacity was increased to 150 barrels of flour and 200 barrels of meal per day.

Among brands of flour manufactured were Cream of Patent, Belle of Harrisburg, Blue Ribbon and White Star.

A force of fifteen men find steady employment at the mill the entire year," the story stated. "A splendid elevator with a storage capacity of 50,000 bushels of grain is brought into service in the conduct of the shipping trade."

Illinois Bell Agrees to Pay Hikes

CHICAGO (U.P.)—A spokesman for the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. announced agreement with the AFL-CIO Electrical Workers on a new wage contract calling for weekly increases ranging from $1 to $3 for 12,500 workers.

The pact will go into effect May 4 if ratified by union members. The company said the pay boost will cost Illinois Bell two million dollars. It will be effective until April 30, 1959.

Soviet Leaders Greet Nasser

MOSCOW (U.P.)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic arrived here today for an 18-day state visit and received one of the greatest welcomes ever accorded a visiting dignitary.

Huge bannerlines in the Moscow press hailed Soviet-U.A.R. friendship and editorials said the visit was an omen of "fruitful cooperation" between Russia and the newly founded Arab state.

Soviet leaders gave Nasser a mammoth welcome when the sleek Russian TU-104 jetliner escorted by five Soviet fighters rolled to a stop before a waiting delegation that included president Kliment Y. Voroshilov and Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

To Exhibit Group Of Paintings at Myrons Store

Mrs. Frank Anerson, RFD 1, Broughton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wood, Eldorado will exhibit about 30 of her paintings at Myrons store in Harrisburg beginning May 1.

Mrs. Anderson began painting about a year ago for her own satisfaction and as a hobby and has specialized in children's subjects, nursery rhyme characters, the people of fairy tales and of classic children's stories. She has also painted pictures of favorite Hereford cattle, ponies, horses and dogs. She works primarily with paints but has also done some charcoal and water color pictures. She has sold a number of the paintings, mostly for children's rooms, dens and family rooms and has expressed surprise that people have wanted to buy the picture which were done as a hobby. She has visited the Art Center in Eldorado and although she has had no formal art training, has long been attracted to painting and prefers the children's illustrations, probably due to the interest of her boys, Chris, 3 1/2 years old and Lindley, 7. She has frequently had them sit as models for her work. Mrs. Anderson has converted the breezeway of her home to a studio where she does most of her painting. The display will remain at Myrons for two weeks.

Open Bureau for Tickets, Lodging For Hambletonian

DU QUOIN, Ill. — A bureau for the streamlined handling of advanced ticket sales and lodging reservations for the Hambletonian Stake, to be raced on Aug. 27, is now in operation, it was announced yesterday by Don M. Hayes, Secretary of the Du Quoin State Fair.

The Hambletonian, which features the world's top 3-year-old trotters, will be held this year on Wednesday of Du Quoin State Fair Week. Dates of the Fair are Aug. 24 through Labor Day. "Last year the public's response to Hambletonian Day was tremendous," Hayes said, "so when this year's advance ticket orders began arriving, as early as January, we decided to get a head start."

Tickets for all grandstand presentations, including the nightly shows, are also available. Requests should be addressed to Du Quoin State Fair, Box 182, Du Quoin, Illinois.

No estimate of this year's Hambletonian purse has been made as yet. Last year's race yielded $111,126, the second-largest purse in Hambletonian history, with the major part going to Hickory Smoke, the winner. With 80 horses eligible to date, this year's purse might well soar to $116,000.

Rupp Amazed At Smallness of Grid Players at HTHS; Challenges Big Boys

Famous Kentucky Cage Coach Addresses All-Sports Banquet

Adolph Rupp, a basketball coach, last night issued a challenge for the big boys to go out for football at Harrisburg high in his address at the all-sports banquet in Bonnell gym.

Perhaps the most famous basketball coach in collegiate circles, Mr. Rupp, after seeing certificates of award given to boys who were out for football, asked:

"Where are all the big guys?" Declaring he was amazed at the smallness of the boys on the football team, he urged the big boys to get out for the sport.

"Don't go spinning around after school hitting the spots in some Model T," the University of Kentucky coach urged. "Get out for the high school sports. Why, of the boys I saw walk up for their awards, I could lick nearly all of them and I'm nearly sixty." He was not meaning to be uncomplimentary to those who went out.

WSIL to Televis Kentucky Derby, Preakness, Belmont

WSIL-TV today announced it will televise the three big events of horse-racing — the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont Stakes — starting with the Kentucky Derby this Saturday.

The events will come live through the facilities of CBS television. The Derby, at a mile and a quarter, will bring the country's top three-year-olds together. The telecast will be from 3:15 to 3:45 p. m. Harrisburg time.

The Preakness, to be run May 17, will be telecast from 3:30 to 4 p. m. and the Belmont Stakes on June 7 from 2:30 to 3 p. m., both Harrisburg time. Veteran turfcasters Fred Caposela will call the races with Bryn Afield providing color commentary.

Calumet Farm's Tim Tam Warms Up for Classic in Derby Trial

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Calumet Farm's Tim Tam, the Kentucky Derby favorite, warmed up today for Saturday's classic in the $15,000 added Derby trial, with Ismael Valenzuela in the saddle as a replacement for injured Bill Hartack.

Dozens of top jockeys were anxious to ride Tim Tam in the first of the Triple Crown classics after Hartack broke a small bone in his left leg at Churchill Downs on Saturday.

Trainer Jimmy Jones of Calumet tagged Valenzuela as rider for Tim Tam in the trial and intimated that the Texas-born rider would also be aboard in the big one Saturday if things go well in the warmup. Jones said, however, that Valenzuela only had been engaged for the trial and not for the race.

10 3-Year-Olds Run
Ten three-year-olds were entered in the trial, a mile race which has produced Kentucky Derby winners Citation, Mr. Prospector and Dark Star. Tim Tam, a 4 to 5 favorite to add this test to his earlier victories this year in the Everglades, the Flamingo, the Fountain of Youth and the Florida Derby.

Lined up against him will be Claiborne Farm's Nash, C. W. Smith's Hillsdale, Robert W. Wilson's Hill Country, George Lewis' Martins Rullah, W. S. Miller's Rellim S. W. Hasty House Farm's Alarullah, C. V. Whitney's Flamingo, W. G. Reynolds' Calumet but was simply amazed that the football squad contained so few boys of any size.

Says Rupp is succeeding in speaking to parents who might not like the idea of their boys playing football because they might get hurt, Coach Rupp stated:

"I'd rather see my boy come home after practice with a broken bone than have him sneaking in late at night from some dive with a broken character."

Rupp mixed humor with seriousness and had the 280 persons present howling at some of his jokes. But on the serious side he stated that he definitely wanted to win at all times, that winning was succeeding and that everybody ought to have a desire to succeed.

"There are too many who just want to get along, not get ahead, and this is a dangerous philosophy," he commented.

He urged high school athletes to forget about being a star, declaring "if you work together you will get somewhere."

Told Team to "Think Big"
He told of his 1957-58 basketball team at the University of Kentucky, that he didn't have an especially good bunch of boys at the outset of the season. But they worked together, improved and after losing a bunch of games finally won their conference and went on to win the NCAA championship, which is tops in the collegiate world.

"I told them to think big," he said. "I didn't have a single man who made the all-conference team but by working together as a team we won the biggest tournament in the country."

"Your athletics," he said to the audience, "cements the people of your community around your school. Encourage sports as they hold community life together."

To the athletes he said: "If you're willing to pay the price to develop talents you do not now possess, you'll go out knowing more things. Our success at Kentucky is due greatly to the discipline we have in practice. All the boys know what they've got to do and they work hard at it.

Certificates Presented
"If you're a star go someplace else to play basketball and do not go to Kentucky. We try to make basketball players and teams down there. We like to win. I'm a poor loser. I do not like to get beat."

Coach Rupp was brought here by the Harrisburg Boosters club and he was introduced by Ed Brantley, president of the club. Master of ceremonies was Principal Eltis Henson, who presented Gene Bland, athletic director.

Athletic certificates of award were presented to well over 100 boys and to 15 girl cheer leaders. Coaches Lawrence Caluffetti and Chester Caddas presented the certificates for football and track, Coach John Dotson for basketball and baseball. Mrs. Pearl Parkhurst presented the awards to the cheer leaders.

WENDELL WAYNE PICKERING, son of Mrs. Julia Pickering, Apt. 13F, Barnett street Housing Project, was one of 33 young Navy men from Illinois and Missouri who were aboard American Airlines' first direct flight from St. Louis to San Diego, Calif., Sunday afternoon. The young men, who enlisted in the Navy at the St. Louis Navy Recruiting station, will receive their recruit training at the San Diego Naval training center. During brief inaugural flight ceremonies at Lambert-St. Louis Airport, the young men simultaneously became members of the Navy and the airline's "Order of Flying Firsters." Pickering was enlisted in the Navy at the Marion Recruiting Station by Thomas J. Ambrose, Navy Recruiter.

This is Texas Eastern...

The system that grew 1600 miles
longer in one year

Texas Eastern's vast pipeline network—carrying both natural gas and petroleum products—increased in length during 1957 by more than 1600 miles.

And that was just one year! Since 1947—when the war-built Big Inch and Little Big Inch were purchased from the government—Texas Eastern has more than doubled the length of its pipelines.

The significance of last year's pipeline growth is as much in its breadth—the variety of its uses—as in its 1600-mile length.

As a transporter of refined oil products, Texas Eastern constructed a 238-mile lateral from Southern Indiana to Chicago to extend the length of its Little Big Inch system to 1700 miles. The new petroleum products system opens the Midwest to the Gulf Coast area's big refineries—which have 28 per cent of the nation's refining capacity.

As a transporter of natural gas, Texas Eastern built nearly a thousand miles of pipelines, 422 miles of which consisted of a 30-inch line from Vidor to McAllen, Texas. This line links the Texas Eastern system with the rich fields in northeastern Mexico. As a result, a great new reserve of natural gas is made available to millions of homes and thousands of factories in a dozen or more Midwestern, Appalachian and Eastern Seaboard states for years to come.

In addition, Texas Eastern constructed hundreds of miles of various diameter pipelines that both increased the capacity of the existing system and extended lines into areas where new gas production has been discovered. All of which means that there will be more natural gas available to fill the growing consumer demand for this clean, economical and efficient fuel.
